EMPOWERING COMMUNITIES TO THRIVE

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRMAN AND CEO

Dear Friends,

Our new vision, “Empowering Communities To Thrive,” came into focus this year. We began by realigning our programs to better reflect the needs of our neighbors. The change began when we created a new department and renamed another, both changes reflecting who we serve and how we serve. As COVID-19 began to bear down on us in the spring, we adapted quickly and expanded our programs by increasing our capacity to offer remote learning and curbside and in-person options, while maintaining the safety of our neighbors and our staff.

By the start of summer, most of our programs had resumed in-person delivery of services, and we increased our attention to also meeting the physical, emotional, and social trauma caused by the pandemic. In the fall, as school opened, we increased our communications with our local partners such as the local school districts and other not-for-profits to enhance our coordination and the integration of in-person instruction based upon need, and began door-to-door outreach.

The many adaptations we made this past year were a vast learning experience which has given us a store of emotional, social, and spiritual resilience. We will draw upon each of these experiences in the upcoming year as we continue to empower our communities to thrive. We share with you our 2019 - 2020 Annual Report, highlighting our efforts to serve in a year of unprecedented challenges. Still, through some of the toughest times, Good Sam continued to support our neighbors, sustained by your prayers and generosity.

With gratitude,

Mr. Mark Trexler
2019 - 2020 Chairman of the Board

Mr. Simon Salás
CEO

HISTORY OF GOOD SAM AND OVERVIEW OF SERVICES

Established in 1951 by the Episcopal Diocese of West Texas, Good Samaritan Community Services (Good Sam) began as a downtown mission of St. Mark's Episcopal Church under the leadership of Bishop Everett Jones. At the time, the West Side area of San Antonio, where Good Sam's Community Center is located, had a high incidence of infant death from diarrhea due to the lack of adequate sanitation in addition to other health and education needs prevalent in the community. In response, Good Sam started building programs for children, youth, families and seniors to address health and educational disparities in the community. Good Sam has since grown to become a private, nonprofit 501(c)3 organization and United Way agency that provides comprehensive services to more than 5,000 individuals and families across South Texas. These services include early childhood programs, afterschool and summer youth enrichment programs, a college readiness program, and the only nationally accredited senior center in South Texas. Good Sam is a catalyst for change, supporting its neighbors by creating the resources individuals need to develop and learn the tools that enable them to access and achieve educational opportunities, healthy futures and financial stability.

San Antonio has the highest percentage of residents living in poverty among major metropolitan areas in the United States (American Community Survey).

THE IMPACT OF THE PANDEMIC ON GOOD SAMARITAN COMMUNITY SERVICES

In the past year, COVID-19 has profoundly impacted our Good Sam community and the world around us. Though we faced many challenges in dealing with the effects of the pandemic on countless lives, we also experienced tremendous compassion and care from neighbors helping neighbors.

While Good Sam's day-to-day operations rely on direct interaction with our neighbors to be effective, in 2020, public safety guidelines and the vulnerability of the populations we work with required that the agency suspend certain services for limited periods of time. The agency continued to provide targeted, in-person distributions of food, formula, diapers, and more to our community. Staff across the agency also delivered certain services to our clients via telephone and digital platforms. Our goal was to prevent isolation, maintain mental well-being, and identify and serve needs. In addition to digital meetings and check-ins with participants, staff created lesson plans and activity packets based on the new required learning environments and developed other digital learning solutions. The transition in the delivery of services, as compared to daily in-person services we generally deliver, led to fewer touch points with clients than normal. While it is easier for staff to initiate these virtual activities, they have had to assess and learn whether or not participants have the resources and skills to engage and at what level. Thus the delivery of essential services was focused on keeping individuals safe, fed, and emotionally secure to reduce the trauma they experienced while dealing with the challenges of living through the pandemic. Mental exhaustion and mental well-being of our staff has also become an increasing concern for agency leadership.

Currently, planning is underway for the opening of our summer learning program sites in Brownsville, and San Antonio. We are planning to experiment with different approaches to our program in certain areas and evaluate the results for inclusion in future summer learning programs. Some of our plans are dependent on our school partners' summer programming and the access to their facilities that they are able to make available for our use, as well as funding.

POLLY'S STORY

Polly has two children who have participated in Good Sam's Early Head Start program - Sofia, who started at Good Sam when she was three years old and has aged out of La Escuelita, and Amelia, 14 months old and currently enrolled in the toddler classroom. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, Polly was laid off from her service industry job with a hotel in March. Before being laid off, she relied on Good Sam's early learning programs for her children, as the agency was located close to her workplace and offered low cost child care. After the pandemic, she has been able to continue accessing resources through Good Sam, including counseling, commodities, and food through agency distributions as well as referrals to food banks and clothing resources. As a single mother, she remains optimistic about the future and looks forward to having her children back in school and returning to work.

MELISSA'S STORY

With the challenges and obstacles brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic, Melissa, a mother of two young girls and a Parents as Teachers (PAT) client at Good Sam, was laid off from her service industry job. She was devastated and at a loss because at this time her children's child care had also closed. She relied heavily on her PAT Parent Educator for support during these very difficult times, trying her best to be optimistic. Melissa discussed ways she could best utilize her time at home with her Parent Educator, expressing that she always wanted to take nurse assistant classes. Conflicts at work, child care, and school hours however, presented Melissa with challenges in pursuing her goals. For months prior to COVID, a Parent Educator worked to find an assistant nursing program that would fit the mother of two's schedule but had been unsuccessful due to in-person class structures. Through the email service Bexar Necessities, the Parent Educator found the HPOG (Health Profession Opportunity Grant), a grant collaboration with the Alamo Colleges that supports tuition-free training to low-income individuals who are living 200% below the federal poverty line for select health occupation courses/programs at the Alamo Colleges District.

Due to COVID and the new virtual learning formats in place, Melissa quickly registered and prepared all paperwork with the assistance of her Parent Educator. Documentation was submitted and Melissa was able to begin class. Melissa stated that although she suffered a great loss with losing her job, she had also been given a great opportunity. She expressed gratitude for the diligent work of her Parent Educator and her excitement in the opportunity Good Sam provided for her and her two daughters.

CHARLOTTE'S STORY

Charlotte has attended Good Sam's Senior Center for the past seven years. She is a lifelong artist and repeat winner of Good Sam's Fiesta Medal design contest. She majored in art education at Jackson State University and although she has been painting all her life, she took a hiatus from art until she began visiting Good Sam's Senior Center. As a regular program attendee, Charlotte was encouraged by agency staff to once again follow her passion. Her paintings and artwork focus on religion, Black impressionism, and Spanish art. During the pandemic Charlotte has continued to paint daily creating works representative of our interests and the world around her. She looks forward to the Center reopening and continuing to access art resources at Good Sam.

Staff are extremely proud of "YAC Mom", as the committee has nicknamed her. She graduated ninth in her class and was awarded the 2019-2020 Joseph Adams Senior Scholarship of $1,000 from the Sociedad Honoraria Hispánica, for her excellent skills in Spanish and dedication to the study of the language. Dora shows exemplary leadership skills, including team building and dependability. She received her associate's degree from UTRGV where she will continue her college career.

AFTERSCHOOL SUCCESS: LUIS'S STORY

Ten-year old Luis has become a tech-savvy student while participating in Good Sam's Cyber Café, a new, in-person program initiated during the COVID-19 shut down, providing virtual access to students. According to Good Sam staff, while many students were having a hard time adjusting to Zoom schedules and iPads during the pandemic, Luis would hurry through his coursework in order to help his fellow Cyber Café classmates. Luis was very helpful to staff while they were busy juggling several student logins at one time. Luis modeled patient, calm, and quiet behavior. He has always been a great bridge of communication from staff to clients, to his parents, and to his siblings. Staff report that he is making excellent progress in school, with A's in all subjects.

Staff members saw this as an opportunity to help Joe develop his interpersonal skills through the agency's Youth Case Management (YCM) program. This program provides children and youth with one-on-one support from bachelor's and master's level social work interns to set and attain their personal and educational goals. During the year that Joe participated in the YCM program, Good Sam staff noticed that he had developed strong social, leadership, and communication skills. Attending Good Sam's Afterschool and Camp Good Sam programs increased Ashely's confidence and helped her develop and fine-tune her leadership skills. Ashely has served on the agency's Youth Advisory Committee, a student-led group that focuses on character development and community service, from the time she was 11-years-old and also served as its president for the last two years. Ashely was the recipient of Good Sam's 2020 Bishop Jones Ambassador award helping cover her costs to attend the University of the Incarnate Word, where she is studying sociology. Each day he came to class eager to have another conversation with his new friends and was motivated to participate in the lessons, encouraging his class to join.

While staff noted that Nathan initially was hesitant, he gradually began to exhibit manners and respect toward his actions which staff believe was motivated by his life experiences. Nathan's mother also shared that she was in shock at the change in his behavior and said that he would go home excited to talk about what he had learned in camp that day. She also noted that he showed more interest in school, specifically with his least favorite subject, math.
